Sen. Dolwig cites county transit need

Daly City and Coastline areas are in need of adequate rapid transit facilities to cope with a burgeoning population and traffic problem, according to San Mateo County Senator Richard J. Dolwig.

Following a speech last week on area rapid transit problems at the Commonwealth Club in San Francisco, Dolwig stressed the need for "feeder systems" of bus lines to connect with transit systems.

He cited the need for research and suggested that transit problems, if they cannot be solved on the ground, could be solved in the air, through use of hydrofoil, monorail, or helicopter transportation.

The Senator is giving consideration to working out a system with industry and labor whereby business hours can be staggered to ease morning and evening conjection on the freeways.

"It will make a lot of difference on the rush hours." His system worked well during World War II," he said.

Dolwig said a helicopter system of transit would be entirely possible. Businessmen, he said, could land the helicopters on the buildings. Dolwig said businessmen could take the 'copters' on buildings and in this way relieve traffic congestion on the freeways as much as 30 per cent.

The hydrofoil, Dolwig added, is a variation of helicopter transportation and is under consideration now for use in the San Francisco Bay.

If the United States can develop a moon rocket, he added, then San Mateo County should be able to work out its traffic difficulties through use of modern techniques.

"With the growth of the county, we must keep right on top of the problem."

He said Daly City and fringe areas will have 80,000 population by 1980. "This figure might exceed 150,000 and in time San Mateo County may have more people than San Francisco."

Dolwig decried what he termed the "provincial thinking" of persons who think the Bayshore Freeway traffic is congested only in the mornings and the evenings.

The helicopter systems would take care of commuters living as far down the coast as Monterey.

Dolwig is the originator of the Rapid Transit Bill which was endorsed this year by both houses in Sacramento and was later vetoed by Governor Brown.

He urged support of the bill for resubmission on the March session in the Senate.

The legislation was for (1) a study of the monorail proposal; (2) a study of the possibility of subsidizing the Southern Pacific railroad service in San Mateo for rapid transit purposes; (3) a tie-in with Santa Clara and San Mateo County transit facilities.

Self help registration Thursday

Medical Self-Help registration is Thursday October 3.

At least one member from every family in Daly City is urged to enroll in this free eight-week program (one night per week, choice of evening) which will prepare families to handle any emergency, such as earthquake, flood, fire, nuclear attack and everyday accident.

The place of registration is your nearest high school to your home; the time is between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Only a few minutes are needed for registration; classes start next week.

In an emergency, what woud you do if the doctor cannot come? According to Dr. Harold D. Chope, director of the Department of Public Health and Welfare, "most families are ill-equipped to handle any emergency. This Medical Self-Help program is not designed as a substitute for professional medical care but the completed training will be invaluable to meet these situations."

Over 80 doctors have taught 500 instructors in Medical Self-Help, who in turn will teach the general public. The course is slide-illustrated and the material stimulating. At the conclusion of the course, each participant will receive a Medical Self-Help training certificate.

The following subjects will be taught: bleeding and bandaging; emergency childbirth; healthful living in emergencies; artificial respiration; fractures and splinting; burns; shock; transportation of injured; nursing care; infant and child care; radioactive fallout and shelter.

The course is free but a voluntary donation of 50 cents

DWELLING INSPECTION — Batallion Chief Frank Specht checks fireplace of Templeton Avenue residence of Mrs. Charles Christian as part of Fire Prevention Week home inspections. Firemen expect to check 4,000 homes Oct. 6-12 for fire hazards. The inspections are voluntary.

Home inspections for Fire Prevention week

Daly City firemen will sponsor poster contests, fire drills and a make concentrated inspection of some 4,000 homes during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-12.

Emphasis this year is placed on fire safety in the home, Battalion Chief Frank Specht said, because this is where the majority of fires occur.

Dwelling inspections will be by consent only, with the idea that the inspection will make the home a safer place to live.

Inspections are primarily confined to the kitchen, front room, garage and yard.

Specht said inspection teams will be on duty about six hours per day from 10 to 12 and 1 to 4:30.

Specht emphasized the inspections are strictly on a voluntary basis on the part of the homeowner.

Poster Contest

Once again the Fire Prevention Bureau of the Daly City Fire Department will conduct another poster and drawing contest for the week of Oct. 6-12.

All classes from the third grade through the sixth grade are asked to draw pictures pertaining to fire prevention in the schools, homes, churches.

Seventh and eighth grade students are asked to make posters of fire prevention. The posters and drawings will be judged by a committee. Prizes will be awarded to winning students from each grade.

Fire Drills

School fire drills will be held through Oct. 4. Students, teachers and personnel will be judged on the ordliness or the drill. A trophy will be awarded the winning school.

Assist on traffic at Cow Palace

San Francisco regular and auxiliary police are helping out Daly City in policing the Cow Palace, according to Capt. Roy Beecher.

The San Francisco officers will assist on the San Francisco side of ⅛eneva Avenue during evenets such as the stage show last Saturday night.

Captain Beecher said that although Daly City officers are used around the grounds and inside the bulding, Daly City is forunate to have San Francisco's assistance.

TRAFFIC STUDY

Daly City police have created an additional traffic lane at the entrance to the Cow Palace, where before there was just two lanes.

Other lanes to expidite the movement of traffic were created at Geneva and Bayshore and at Geneva and Schwerin.

Captain Beecher said the survey was made by Lieutenants John Walsh and Richard Sims.

Two lights are also to be installed to light up the area in front of the Cow Palace, one at the entrance and to the Cow Palace.

Traffic signals are expected to be installed at the entrance also, according to Captain Beecher.

Deadline extended on directory

Due to a typographical error the Westlake Times last week printed the wrong telephone number and has extended for one week the taking of advertising listings for the new Daly City business directory.

Persons may list their businesses in the new directory by calling PL 6-3823 or PL 6-6169.

No harmony in districts

The Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees voted at a special meeting last night to cast an affirmative vote for unification and similar configurations of the high school and elementary school districts in North San Mateo County.

School district unification—touchy, controversial and burdened with problems—will be wrestled tonight at the San Mateo County Committee Meeting on School District Organization.

Representatives of the trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District, Jefferson Elementary District, and Bayshore, Brisbane and Laguna Salada Elementary Districts and others will meet in Redwood City with the committee to resolve the question . . . if possible.

There is neither harmony or total enthusiasm among the districts for the plan.

Several of the elementary districts have already instructed their representatives to cast a negative vote.

This includes the Jefferson Elementary District.

Unification Good?

There is a desire amongst the various board trustees of both the elementary and the high school district to produce a workable agreement of benefit to the citizens of the districts and their children.

The question of benefit has created conflict.

"I don't know if unification is a good thing or not; but, we are going to have to face the problem either now or later," said Trustee Lyal Ingersoll last night.

The vote to affirm unification was unanimous.

"We don't want to see the district fragmented," said Board Vice President James M. Cooper.

Cooper Elected

Cooper was elected unanimously to represent the board and instructed to cast the affirmative vote at tonight's meeting.

Seven Members

The Jefferson Union High School Board will vote through Cooper, for a seven-man unified board to be elected at large from the unified district.

This plan specifies that no trustee area will be designated.

Not Immediately

Even if a proposal for unification is agreed on by the boards now, and submitted to the state department of education, local voters will have the final say.

Unification, must be voted for ata citizen's election within the district before a new district can come into being.

It will take approximately a year to form the district.

Voters will also determine the financing of the unit.

San Francisco Development

Westmoor designer acclaimed for plan

The architect who conceived Westmoor High School in Daly City and Oceana High School in Pacifica and eight other Daly City schools was acclaimed last week for his San Francisco Master Plan.

Mario J. Ciampi, whose design for a modern downtown San Francisco was called ". . . positively the most tremendous development for any city any place . . ." and Paul W. Reiter, his associate, designed the award winning Daly City schools that have been described by "Architectural Forum" as ". . . almost defiantly individualistic."

A "Life Magazine" article notes that Ciampi has won many national awards for his Daly City schools.

The schools are outstanding for their compactness and organization around interior courts.

INDOOR-OUTDOOR SCHOOLS

"We had to conceive indoor schools that still have a relationship with the outside," says Reiter.

Because of the foggy dampness of Daly City's climate, the schools had to be enclosed and great use made of artificial light.

Yet, students had to have a feeling of being part of the outdoors.

SIMPLICITY, HONESTY

"We wanted to design buildings that were simple, yet honest," says Reiter.

"We did and every building is different," he concludes.

"We also wanted to design buildings that would be timeless," goes on Reiter. "As a result, Westmoor High School is of an enduring style that won't grow dated."

"It is not a stereotype nor a cliche," says Ciampi's associate.

FLEXIBLE

The academic section of Westmoor is built to be flexible in a changing educational system.

As a result, changes or additions to the interior can be made at a small cost and with ease.

PRIDE

"Perhaps the best testimonial to the pride Westmoor students have in their school is the way they have taken care of it," says Reiter.

"There has been no defacing nor marring of the building by the students since it was completed four years ago," he states.

LOW COST

Ciampi has designed all of Daly City's schools to be built at a reasonable cost.

None have run more than $15 per square foot.

Westmoor was constructed for $14.72 a square foot.

"We wanted to give the school district good quality at a small price," says Ciampi and Reiter.

SELLING JOB

Ciampi experienced some difficulty in convincing some conservatives of the State Board of Education in Sacramento that his schools would be functional as well as having dramatic and esthetic value.

But, once the board was convinced after a selling job by Ciampi, other schools by him and his associates were received with enthusiasm.

Ciampi has designed — in addition to Westmoor-Oceana, still under construction, Olympia Elementary, M. Pauline Brown, Vista Mar and Vista Grande.

He has a contract to design the high school in the Crocker Lands area that will serve Brisbane, Bayshore and South Hills.

BIG CONCEPT

Of the Olympia Elementary School, Ciampi, says, "A little building may contain a big concept."

And, "Maybe the kids who go to this school will want to learn the best."

As "Architectural Forum" puts it . . . "after all this the ultimate purpose of education."

County to provide for waste sites

The county board of supervisors committed the county Friday to provide adequate waste disposal sites for the entire county, cities and unincorporated area alike.

County Manager E. R. Stallings said $700,000 might be available next year for site acquisition. This would give a start on the total acquisition program, which Stallings estimated might cost $2 million to assure enough dump sites for the next 50 years.

The board said the county will not interfere with cities who are operating their own dumps but, when additional land is acquired for cities with county funds, the cities will be expected to agree to uniform standards of operation to be established by the board.

The supervisors also expressed the hope that all dump sites, which will be fill and cover operations, will be used for recreation when they are completely filled in. If they are, Stallings said, the land acquisition program might qualify for federal funds. Up to 30 per cent of the land cost could be paid by the federal government in the interest of preserving the lands as open spaces.

SSF, San Bruno ask annexation of Westborough

South San Francisco and San Bruno have each offered the hand of annexation to Westborough.

San Bruno officials were approached by Westborough residents after South San Francisco City Council had started a move to annex all of Westborough — including two proposed shopping centers — except for the area of occupied homes.

The South San Francisco Planning Commission went on record last week urging that the city act as quickly as possible in its annexation of Westborough.

The SSF city council has set up an Oct. 7 public hearing at which time property owners would have the power to stop the annexation.

Lions to sell White Canes Fri., Saturday

Local Lions Club members Friday and Saturday, Oct. 4 and 5 will put aside business and jobs to sell White Canes for the blind.

Wearing special insignia, they will be stationed in and around shopping areas.

Among many items being provided the sightless and sight handicapped are special glasses, Braille training and writing machines, seeing-eye dog clinics and all-too-scarce facilities.

Probably most touching of these stricken are the little ones. Lions White Cane aid provides the highly skilled personnel required to help over their handicap and to develop useful occupations. These workers report blind children to tell of seeing this or seeing that for they are learning to substitute other senses: touch, smell, hearing.

Blindness for some is from birth. For others it is a later misfortune. One thing is certain; whenever it strikes, help is surely needed.

Crusade drive is launched

The Residential and Business Divisions of the San Mateo County United Crusade will kick-off their annual drive in the first week of October.

Thousands of ladies who have volunteered their services to the Crusade's one-campaign, fair-share idea wil be honored by an East-West fashion show-luncheon event at the Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn on October 3. The division starts its drive the next day to raise its share of the $660,000 goal set this year to meet the county's share of the bay-wide, five-county effort by the United Bay Area Crusade.

The funds are needed to fund vital services performed by 188 health, walfare and recreation services to the people of the Bay Area.

The Business Division drive will be sparked by volunteer board members and staff of the county Crusade's member agencies. The north county area will be serviced by personnel from the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts agencies in the county.

The residential and business division goals this year will account for 30 per cent of the $660,000 county goal. They are broken down by communities as follows:

County:	Res. Div.	Bus. Div.
Daly City-Colma-Bayshore	$2,233	$1,947
Pacifica	1,252	204
San Bruno	1,468	659

Christen ranch to be a modern city

Annexation of the 916 acre Christen Dairy Ranch property to Daly City will give Northern San Mateo County a modern residential city and commercial hub that will, according to projected estimates of Daly City Financial Manager Joseph A. Arch, not only pay for itself but bring the city a profit of over one half million dollars annually.

The city council has set Oct. 14 for the first hearing on the request for annexation of the Suburban Realty Company property to Daly City.

The huge parcel of undeveloped land is located south of Daly City between the coast foothills and Mt. San Bruno. The development firm plans to create a $150 million balanced community for 21,000 people that will, in the words of planners Wilsey, Hamm and Blair, "eventually amalgamate the suburban towns of Daly City, Pacifica and South San Francisco into one economic unit."

Tax Income

Director of Finance Arch this week pointed out in a report to the city manager that Daly City would receive an initial tax income from land assessments starting as soon as the Christen parcel is annexed, whether it is developed or not. As the development progresses, the improvements would yield additional tax income, both from real and property taxes and from sales taxes on the 190 acres devoted to a business complex.

The master plan calls for a 320-acre residential park integrating high, medium and low density housing. Half the residential land will be devoted to high density tower apartments, garden apartments and terrace apartments on the steeper slopes.

Single family homes, one and two-story and split level, will occupy the other half of the residential land and will account for 25 per cent of the total dwelling.

Weather Conditioned

A weather conditioned shopping center is planned for a 73-acre site near the junction of the Junipero Serra and Cabrillo Freeways, with concourse open areas rather than malls. Stores will open in a bazaar arrangement onto the concourses.

Complete basement truck loading facilities have been designed, along with a number of fine restaurants and a play area to entertain tots while mothers shop.

Thirteen acres of parks and recreation areas are projected in the master plan, plus sites for libraries and other municipal services.

Department heads in Daly City have already gone on record encouraging the annexation. Mayor Joseph Verducci has said that "after nearly two years of study, the city officials and staff of Daly City feel that the Christen Ranch annexation is good."

He pointed out that the major shopping center would be located near the present Daly City limits and "statistics show that 60 per cent of Daly City money is spent outside the city. This would help bring business to the community and we would benefit from the sales tax."

Sales Tax

According to Arch's projected figures, sales tax from the Suburban Realty development would bring Daly City $679,970 annually when development is completed, almost twice the predicted cost to the city for additional municipal services the new area.

This, added to the projected $684,547 in revenues from real and personal property taxes, would give Daly City an annual tax yield of $1,364,517.

The development's assessed valuation of approximately $43,000,000 based on the current Daly City tax rate would add another $862,673.

Suburban Realty Company, formed by the Crocker Land Company and Standard Building Company, Inc., will develop the property at no expense to the city. Work is expected to get under way as soon as annexation proceedings are completed.

Proclamation

The San Mateo Board of Supervisors has proclaimed the year starting today (Tuesday October 1) as "Medical Self-Help Year" for San Mateo County families.

Resolution #19078 says that:

WHEREAS, routine public health and sanitation facilities, such as sewage disposal and water purification systems, may be seriously disrupted; and

WHEREAS, the Medical Self-Help Training Program has been developed by the United States Public Health Service in cooperation with the American Medical Association, the San Mateo County Medical Society, the American National Red Cross and other competent authorities to help families assume medical and health responsibilities which they are now ill-equipped to handle; and

WHEREAS, Medical Self-Help Training is being made available to the families of San Mateo County in a pilot program of Civil Defense;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS RESOLVED that this Board does hereby proclaim the coming year starting this October 1, 1963, the Medical Self-Help Training Year for San Mateo and urge that at least one member from every family avail himself of this vital training as soon as possible, as a responsibility to himself, his family, the community and the nation.

The resolution was unanimously approved by Supervisors James V. Fitzgerald, E. R. McDonald, T. Louis Chess and W. M. Werder (Alvin S. Hatch was absent).

The Medical Self-Help program in San Mateo county is administered by the United Voluntary Services under agreement with the board of supervisors, which appropriated $5,000 to get the program under way. An additional $22,500 was contributed from the surplus funds of the KO Polio drive, with an additional $22,500 to be forthcoming in six months.

Gigantic sidewalk sale at Westlake Shopping Center

Merchants of the Westlake Shopping Center in Daly City will display their wares out on the sidewalks in front of their stores Wednesday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. until closing time both days.

The sidewalk sale will have a country fair theme. Merchandise will be offered for sale from colorfully decorated tables skirted with red, white and blue bunting. Many stores will have interesting exhibits.

Bert Feltinton, president of the shopping center's merchant association, said that the entire center is enthusiastically entering into the gala affair. All clerks will wear "crazy" hats made of white silk decorated with bright red, blue and yellow polka dots. This is so the customers can identify the sales help. Also each center employee will be further identified with a bright orange badge which reads "CLERK."

All of the Westlake stores will load their "exhibit" tables with thousands of special bargains at unusual prices.

Searchlights will blazen across the Daly City skies to herald the Wednesday night opening of "Shoppers Fair" at Westlake Shopping Center. Strings of colored lights and floodlight towers in the mall will project the country fair theme.

The Daly City U.S. Naval recruiting office will display a huge replica of the USS Portsmouth, the fastest sailing ship of the old Navy and one of the first ships of its kind to sail into the San Francisco harbor.

Feltinton also pointed out that in addition to its sidewalk offerings of special sale merchandise most Westlake stores will be featuring "Blue Ribbon Specials" on "exhibit" inside their stores.

All stores will be decorated with a county fair theme. The Westlake merchants guarantee two wonderful days of exciting fun shopping during their "Shoppers Fair Sidewalk Sales Days", Wednesday and Thursday, October 2-3.

Abandoned boys found

Two lost or abandoned boys, aged two years and two months, were found by Daly City police officer Harry Lax at 12:16 a.m. Tuesday in the lobby of an apartment at 355 Southgate.

Local police were unable to locate the parents. The children, in apparent good health, were transported to Community Hospital, San Mateo.

Market street extension bids

The San Mateo County board of supervisors Tuesday opened bids for a 1.5 mile extension of Market street from Daly City to Radio Road in the Crocker Hills.

The road is to be a link between old Daly City and Bayshore areas.

Low bidder was Gibbons and Reed Company at $610,778. The bids ranged as high as $880,000.

County engineers estimated the project at $560,469. The bids were referred to the engineer's office for study.

Marching mothe meet to plan Jan March of Dimes

Mrs. Edward S. Berry, Daly City chairman for the 1964 "Mothers March" of the March of Dimes, attended a two day meeting at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco Sept. 23 and 24.

More than 300 delegates gathered.

The March of Dimes now provides the largest single national source of private support for scientific research and patient care in both arthritis and birth defects, reports Mrs. Berry.

There are 11,000,000 arthritic patients in the United States.

In March of Dimes Arthritis Centers, clinicians and laboratory scientists are developing new methods of treatment and search for its cause and cure.

One aspect of this research program is the Salk Institute for Biological Studies.

There, Dr. Jonas Salk and a team of scientists will begin studies of basic biological questions.

The March of Dimes is aiding in the construtcion and backing of the Institute.

"We urge everyone to support these important new programs of the March of Dimes," says Mrs. Berry. "At the same time, we cannot forget the many thousands of disabled polio victims who still look to us for help. Your contributions will give them hope for the future."

Post office commended on stamps sale

Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy has received a letter from William H. Neal, National Director of the U.S. Savings Bonds Division, commending the local post office for its successful efforts in promoting the sale of U.S. Savings Stamps. He announced that children buying their first stamps of the school year will be given a free certificate signed by the seven Mercury astronauts, designating them as "Junior Astronauts." These certificates are now available at the Post Office.

In his own endorsement, Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy adds: "Selling Savings Stamps through the schools and over the counter to the public is a part of the Post Office Department's services of which we are particularly proud.

The Treasury-sponsored School Savings Program not only promotes practical thrift but also acquaints our young people with their government and their duties and privileges as American citizens. I know of no finer way to build for a better tomorrow than by training our youth of today in the sound American heritage of thrift."

Westmoor girls sample colleges

By Sherry Rosen

Although most seniors spent their last vacation before graduation enjoying traditional summer activities, four ambitious feminine members of the class of '64 ventured to sample college life for a few months by taking college courses at various California colleges and universities. Stationed from Davis to Santa Barbara, these early freshmen received sneak previews of the rigors that await them next fall.

Studying on what is known as the most beautiful UC campus, Evelyn Goodell spent her summer at US Santa Barbara.

Taking courses in political science and ancient European history, she lived in the co-ed dorms with the 300 other participating high school juniors. Evelyn now feels much better prepared for college, although she pointed out that Westmoor High had prepared her well in comparison to many of her classmates.

Her classes, which were not as large as she had imagined, moved at a faster rate than that of a high school course. "Our first day in class," Evelyn remembers, "our instructor informed us that we should have already read the first 30 pages of the book."

Among the 30 high school students from all over the country who met at the University of California in Davis under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation was Denise Jamin. Although the course mostly dealt with bio-chemistry, Denise did individual research in genetics.

The students heard lectures during the mornings and spent the afternoons in the laboratory, each working with his own professor. At the end of the course, each student reported on his lab work. As a result of her six weeks study, Denise now contemplates a career in agronomy.

Perfecting her Chinese accent for six weeks was Sherry Rosen. Sherry participated in the third annual Foreign Language Institute at San Francisco State College. In class from 11:00 to 12:15 each morning, the students spent a half hour each day in the language laboratory recording, taping, and listening to their voices.

Sherry reports that her progress in Chinese was greatly aided by the fact that all of her classmates were Chinese-Americans who already had a command of the language. Her instructor was a 10-year veteran teacher from the Army language school in Monterey. Among the teachers who observed teaching techniques throughout the course was Westmoor's Mr. Timothy Yang.

Commuting daily to Coyote Point, Pat Woodman spent her vacation studying the history of western civilization at the College of San Mateo. Pat notes that the general class atmosphere was informal and that the students were treated as adults.

Her professor treated all the students, including the four high-schoolers, with respect and did not take time to coax them into doing their work. Pat's projects included a book report on Mein Kampf and a large map of western Europe.

Temple Judea Succos celebration

Temple Judea will observe Sucos (The Feast of Tabernacles) at their regular Friday evening Sabbath Service, to be held this coming Friday at the Temple Baptist Church in Stonestown (3355-19th Ave.). This Service will start at 8 p.m.

Succos (the Feast of Tabernacles) is a feast of thanksgiving, which, historians tells us, was the inspiration for our American feast of Thanksgiving.

Members of Congregation Judea are building individual succahs (booths) in their backyards. In the Bible, the succah was constructed in fulfillment of a command given by God to the children of Israel: "Ye shall dwell in booths seven days; all that are homeborn in Israel shall dwell in booths; that your generations may know that I made the children of Israel to dwell in booths when I brought them out of the land of Egypt; I am the Lord your God."

The succah booths are generally decorated with greenery and fruits, symbolizing the harvest.

Rabbi Herbert Morris is visiting the home of each member who has built a succah and will give the blessing for the Esrog (citron) and Lulav (palm fronds which decorate the booth.

Mrs. Melvin Axelrod will perform the Candle Blessing at this Sabbath Evening Service. The Oneg Shabbat (social) following will be hosted by Mmes. Bobby Cohn, Evelyn Jamin, and Louis Minkin.

Daly City minister holds NARC post

Programs, problems and national-local relationships were the subjects of the National Association for Retarded Children Institute which was attended by Rev. Paul E. Kenny, executive director of Guidance for Retarded Children and also Associate Minister of Vista Grande Ave. Christian Church of Daly City.

Rev. Kenny recently returned from the institute which was held in Minneapolis, Minn. for national and local retarded children's group directors. Kenny was recently hired to guide the 11-year old GRC group, which consists of West County parents and interested citizens. It is a non-profit organization existing solely on donations.

"The Institute was the first of its kind in the United States." Kenny stated, "It was mainly informative, an orientation for the directors to national-local relationships, problems and programs.

"This meeting was very significant in the future of our programs for retarded children across the nation." Kenny continued, "It was almost exactly 12 years ago that NARC (National Association for Retarded Children), met in Minneapolis for its first convention which caused a movement to spread across the nation, helping retarded children and adults, which number about 3⅛ of the American population, according to the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. That makes over 5 million people suffering from mental retardation, the disease that afflicts more people than any other.

"This institute has had an equally inspiring affect on the nation's individual programs Kenny concluded.

Kenny, who recently received his administration credentials at San Francisco State College, has been a teacher from grammar school to college level for 25 years and was ordained a minister of the Christian Church in 1935. He was president of the Idaho State Association for Retarded Children for one year and vice president for two years. He re-

The GRC workshop for youngsters 8 and up will be handled by Kenny as an added duty until a teacher can be hired. The workshop trains retarded to be useful wage earners in society rather than the burden they have been for many years without any help. The nursery school, also operated by GRC for pre-school retarded children at Rumhill Road and Road 20, is now accepting applications. Mrs. Sue Stockman will take them at 234-5569.

October is PTA month in Pacifica

Pacifica began its annual PTA membership round-up last week with a proclamation by Mayor Harold Feyge that "October is PTA Enrollment Month." Laguna Salada's nine elementary schools and the two high school groups in Pacifica have a goal of 3,000 members.

Nationally, the PTA serves children through their legislative activity and it supports school bonds and provides scholarship funds at the state level. In San Mateo County, PTA is noted for its work with the Braille Library for blind children.

Locally, the PTA sponsors juvenile protection such as block parents. They organize volunteers for safeteria and library duty, office help, kindergarten registration, guides for study trips, hostesses for conferences. They send representatives to local school board meetings to help members keep abreast of school plans and problems.

Although all are united by the underlying purpose of child welfare, each unit has its own characteristics and plans its projects and programs to suit individual needs.

Vallemar PTA, for example, has decided on the personal approach in this year's membership campaign. Their enrollment committee is headed by an enthusiastic husband-and-wife team, Darrell and Ann Moore. Mrs. Moore said that the emphasis this year will be on family membership, rather than just "Mom." Executive board members will contact every parent of their school with a personal invitation to attend meetings and join the group. Her husband, in charge of men's participation, pointed to the fact this Vallemar has a man president, Bas Gladieux, and that he expects the same high degree of cooperation Vallemar men have always given their PTA.

Getting a head start on the other groups, Pacific Heights a Laguna Salada school, although it is located in San Bruno city limits) began their drive the middle of September and plan to continue to the end of October. Mrs. Herman Langbehn, president, reports that their executive board is going door to door distributing "Get Acquainted With PTA" tickets. "Interest is high, and the response good," said Mrs. Langbehn.

President Dan Martin of Sharp Park PTA, the coastside's oldest group is Pacifica's other sale president. Sharp Park plans a Citizenship Award Night and programs featuring local speakers and social workers.

Mrs. Walter Elliott, president of Linda Mar PTA, says that their membership plans have not been completed as yet. This was true also, of Terra Nova High School, Pedro Valley Elementary and Ortega.

Oceana High's PTA president, Mrs. Minnie Mirabelli, said her unit plans on auction to provide funds for the scholarships they will award to deserving boys and girls; and that, of course, they will sponsor the senior party.

Mrs. Martin Sambrailo, Sanchez' president, says their PTA is organizing a Saturday movie program for the children in their area to provide suitable entertainment for Sanchez boys and girls.

Pacific Manor's PTA'ers are busy, not only with membership enrollment, but with rummage sale plans, their group's fund-raising activity for the year, according to Mrs. Harry Brown, president.

Mrs. Allen West, Westview's president, reports that their membership drive will take a new form this year. Under the leadership of Mrs. Rodney Bailey, block chairmen will call on each family in Westview to talk about PTA, answer questions, and leave membership envelopes. A return call will be made to pick up the dues if the family is interested in joining.

PTA membership is not limited to parents and teachers. It is open to anyone who is interested in the welfare of children and youth. Parents of school students (with the exception of Westview and Pacific Heights) will be contacted through the school. Others without anyone in school may call Mrs. Lee Darnell, chairman of the local PTA coordinating committee, at 359-2243, for information concerning the PTA closest to them.

Dues are usually one dollar a year per person (less in some units), and entitle the person to membership in the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, 17th District, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Activities at Abraham Lincoln

A newly formed Art Club at Abraham Lincoln Elementary School has attracted the interest of the fourth, fifth and sixth graders. Under the direction of Mrs. Janet Gunthorp the students will work on several problems in art, using various media to learn the basic principles of expression. The immediate result of their efforts will be the decorating of the multi-use room and other areas of the school for special occassions.

Charter members of the club are: Barry Lavey, David Di Fiore, Don Shockley, Jeff Tepper, Paul Parker, Brian Myers, Alan Hoffman, Fred Kornahrens, Doug Kapovich, Neir Goldmen, Stanley Hoffman, Richard Gurtner, Steven Crocenzi, Michael Egan, James McGill, Joseph Gallega, William Deem, Kurt Heider, Harold Faulkner, Stephen Wahler, Steven Wohl, Terry Pierce, Jeannie Kite, Margaret Putnem, Michael Carr, James Batz, John Tryon, Michael Caldow, Donald Thomas and Michael Morgan.

Three intermediate grade classes at Abraham Lincoln Elementary School have elected their class officers for the fall term.

New books at Westmoor

By Sue Sherman

Books ranging from How To Get Into College to Peanuts and authors from James Baldwin to Emily Dickinson can be found among the stock in Westmoor's book store.

To stir up reading interest, manager Nancy Loes plans a "book of the week" program for which numerous new books are presently being ordered. In addition, the store has books mentioned on many teachers' reading lists.

Expecting to surpass the $200 profit made last year, Nancy reports that $10.00 was taken in during the first two days the book store was open.

Open during both lunches and sometimes before and after school, the book store is run by Nancy and her assistant manager, Cathie McCaffery, and official staff members Terry Hunter, Linda Ransom, and Sherry Rosen.

Nancy emphasizes, "All are welcome and encourages to come in and shop around. Support the American Field Service by contributing. If a student has any suggestions concerning the book store, please make them.

11 Westmoor scholarship group members

By Sue Sherman

Life membership in the California Scholarship Federation is anticipated by eleven Westmoor High School seniors, six girls and five boys, this year.

To receive this honor, students must earn CSF membership four out of their last six semesters, one of which must occur in the seniod year. Qualification for membership is 10 semester grade points, with an "A" equal to three points, and a "B" equal to one, with no D's or F's.

Prospective life members include John Cuniberti, Jim Fotenos, Denise Jamin, Lynn Jones, and Linda Long.

Other hopeful students are James Moses, Don Ritzman, Sherry Rosen, Sue Sherman, Diana Stipelkovich, and Ron Swedberg.

Life membership entitles the recipient to a gold seal imprinted on his diploma and high school records. This seal entitles the student to special privileges at college and in the working field.

Leading their respective classes in scholastic ability, 25 sophomores, 13 juniors, and 13 seniors have joined the honor society this fall.

Advancements for Former LSEA heads

Roland W. Finken, outgoing LSEA president and former Laguna Salada administrator, has been appointed director of the Regional Training Center, U.S. Treasury Department of Internal Revenue, at Van Nuys. On Sept. 30 Finken began his administrative responsibilities for the professional guidance and leadership of the unique training program. The Van Nuys Center is one of two facilities in the United States to provide continual in-service training and development for the career employees of the Internal Revenue Service.

Jack Lynch, LSEA president for 1961-62, addressed a luncheon for teachers of Pacifica given at Nick's Rockaway on Sept. 3, where he told of his new appointment as consultant on curriculum to the school system in Monrovia, Liberia.

He leaves his post as instructor of the Frederic Burk Training School of San Francisco State College.

Lynch taught at the Sharp Park School before leaving the district for his State College position.

New principal to be welcomed by Westlake PTA

The Westlake PTA will hold its first unit meeting Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

Mrs. Chadwick Reade, membership chairman, has announced the PTA's membership slogan for the New Year, "Lets get off to a flying start."

The campaign will continue during the month of October.

The class with the largest membership will receive a prize.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Rudolph Cipro and Mrs. Marshall Mussen.

Vista Mar school has student observors

Vista Mar is again working with Dr. Wally Beatty and George Sheviakov in having junior students, although not classrooms of the school. These junior sturents, although not eligible to present academic skills at this time will be getting experiences in supervising tasks, clerical routine, observing students behavior, and the various other duties.

Approximately 20 or 25 students will be at Vista Mar over a period of the semester in various classrooms of different grade levels.

Students from Westmoor High are spending an hour a day observing, as follows: student Jill Carson with Mrs. Jeane Oberlander, student Linda Long with Miss Mary Wade and Mrs. Susan Burney, and Michael Lynch with Mrs. Angeline Friedman.

'Mexico Today' film at Westmoor high school

"Mexico Today" and "Friendly Neighbors" will continue the film series given by Westlake Travel Centre, free of charge, Wednesday, Oct. 2nd in the Little Theatre of Westmoor High School, from 8 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

See, enjoy, explore Mexico, a timeless land mellowed by centuries of compelling history, where the ancient culture of the Aztec Empire sets a majestic stage, and vestiges of a lost Toltec civilization tell their vivad tale. In these films you will feel the pulsebeat of its little Spanish towns, carved like baroque jewels, the colorful markets and peasant animation of its Indian villages, the big cities where ultra-modern concrete and mosiacs rub shoulders with ancient cathedrals and Aztec relics.

All are invited and questions will be answered. This program is being presented with the joint cooperation of the Jefferson Union High School District. For further information, call Westlake Travel Centre, 375 So. Mayfair, Daly City, WYman 2-3322.

Riordan ruins Rams

Classy Crusaders outrun Westmoor

The Westmoor Rams ran into tough, classy competition against Riordan High School Friday night in a football tussle at Kezar Stadium.

The Rams ended up on the downside of a lopsided 26-7. This is the third straight victory for the Riordan Crusaders and the first loss for the Ramsmen.

Riordan easily outran the Rams to make gains of 233 yards on the ground.

The Rams lonely successful try came in the htird quarter on a pass from quarterback Bruce Hix to end Marc Mallinger.

Dave Mahoney ran the PAT.

Westmoor threatened to come back late in the final period, but Crusader Steve Santucci intercepted a Bruce Hix pass on the Riordan 13 yard line to end the rally.

Shortly after, Hix was forced to leave the game with a badly cramped leg muscle.

No serious damage was done to Hix who will see action against Burlingame in a 3 p.m. non-league game this Friday on the Rams' home field.

The Crusader's third non-league winning march was led by fullback Joe Currie and quarterback Ron Calavano.

Currie tallied two TD's on runs of 10 and 11 yards.

Calavano passed for one touchdown and score another on a 75 yard run from scrimmage.

The Crusaders showed their power by scoring early in the first quarter to move 75 yards in nine plays.

The Riordan team is being picked as one of the top contenders in their Catholic Athletic League.

Jefferson trounced by Trojans

And, it was a bad day for another Daly City High school football team Friday.

Jefferson was soundly trounced by Rovenswood 32-0.

This is the second straight loss for Joe McGrath's Indians who dropped their first one to Terra Linda Sept. 20.

The Ravenswood Trojans marched down the field some 90 yards on a punt return for one TD.

Then, they scampered 42 yards into TD country on a recovered fumble.

And, they came between the ball and an Indian receiver and dashed another 50 yards for a third score.

The initial Trojan score was made early in the first quarter when Melvin Easley ran the 90 yard scorer on a recovered fumble at the end of the first Jefferson punt.

Jefferson lost the ball three times on fumbles, Ravenswood twice.

During the second quarter, Ravenswood gained 53 yards in seven plays for their second tally.

They sent over Dwight Turner from the one yard line to make that mark.

The Trojans scored twice more in the third quarter and one more in the final period on an intercepted pass.

Trojan quarterback Ed Davie snared the misquided ball out of the air and ran 50 yards for the final score.

Jefferson's brief, but shining, moment came during the second period when qb Don Cisicaro pitched to rh Nathan who sent a 45-yard pass down the field into the waiting hands of le Ed Larios.

With Jeff in a scoring position, the chance was ruined by a fumble. Jeff's boys will try it again, hopefully, this Friday when they meet Poly High on their own ground at 3 p.m.

Serra Bowl News

Many fall leagues are now in full swing at Serra and our bowlers enthusiasm for a new season of competition can easily be measured by the raft of high scores being rolled every night of play.

Duane Enderson, bowling for United California Bank in Bankers League action, tallied a tremendous 236-627 set to lead his boys in a 3-0 sweep over Crocker Anglo No. 3 last Thursday night.

After a shaky 138 opener, Don Coats opened the throttle wide and blasted a towering 230 and 224 to lead all the scoring in the Belles and Beaus loop with a fine 592 total. Cheers for Shirley Bradford are also in order for her 199-51 efforts the same night.

Russ Miramontes paced his team No. 6 to a 2-1 decision over Team No. 8 in Gigolos League play with a sturdy 226-587 tally.

In the big 16 team Automotive Loop League, Secretary Barney Crosby was last weeks high roller with a tidy 230-592 trio as he led the Harris Brothers team to a 2-1 win over the Ellis Brooks bunch.

In the Portola Dad's League the Cattlemen rolled over the Western Tire team for a 3-0 sweep, led by the able shooting of Jay Belarde, who amassed a 574 total on a 237 high game.

In Parkmerced League play the best individual show of the week was turned in by Pete Casias who led his A.B.C. Drapery Co. five to a 4-0 victory over the Shell Gassers on a 225-576 series.

Don Reddicks, 167 averager, really turned on the steam in B. & G. Mixed League action to tally 220-615 and grab both high game and high series honors in a single blow.

Tuesday Nightowls competition was marked by two near misses for membership in the "600" Club. Tony Angulo totaled a 59 threesome with a 217 high single and Ed Crowley blasted a 231 last game to end his set with a 597 score.

Bob Campodonico rolled high in the 810 Scratch Loop last Monday with a 226-569 effort to help his team to a 3-0 win over Babe's Tower Inn.

As the last taste of sweets is sweetest last, so is our highest night league series best mentioned last. In the newly formed Lions League Ernie Loconsolo put together games of 218, 223, and 209 for a blistering 650 total and led his Geneva Excelsior team to a 3-0 sweep over the Park Presidio boys.

The new ladies' trio league from the Holy Angels parish bowled the first day of their fall season last Friday morning at 9:15 a.m. Any parish members interested in joining this league for this season should do so immediately by calling Bev Cronin at WY 2-3444.

Oceana over Cougars

But, all was not gloom in and around Daly City Friday.

The Jones Boys of Oceana High School took one away from Half Moon Bay High School when they defeated the Cougars 14-0.

This is the Sharks first win . . . ever!

And, loyal fans of the Sharks are praising quarterback Steve McCoy for bringing home the victory by shooting nine passes . . . seven complete.

One of them sent the ball 50 yards to halfback Bill Reisen for a score in the closing seconds of the game.

The first 6 point mark was made in the second quarter on a recovered fumble plus a Tom Summy handoff run through tackle.

Summy's PAT kick failed to go between the posts.

Coach Jess Jones' will be grooming his Oceana team this week to meet Leigh High at 3 p.m. Friday on the Leigh High grid.

The Rotten Apple

The old saying about one rotten apple spoiling the barrel, has many applications in everyday life.

Notwithstanding the fact that the vast majority of businessmen are honest and honorable, an occasional "rotten-apple" can seriously affect public confidence and respect for all the others.

It is because of this fact, that honest businessmen have banded together to form a Better Business Bureau —to help protect the public, and themselves—from the effects of fast-talking, free-dealing sharpies which come along from time to time.

One of the principal efforts of the BBB is to try and acquaint the publbic with some of the wild schemes that are being tried, and which a surprising number of unsuspecting people fall for.

Their motto: "Act in Haste, Repent in Leisure" is exemplified in their effort to caution people to act with caution, to read before they sign, and to be sure of proper identification and reliability before they pay out any money for anything.

It is surprising to read of some of the foolish things that p eople do with hard earned money—how normally cautious, fairly intelligent people can be stampeded into signing something or paying out money when they think they are going to get a bargain.

Just about a year ago a Better Business Bureau was formed to serve San Mateo County. We recommend that any buyer who feels that his purchase, prospective or completed does not seem to be what has been proposed, contact them.

By the same token, every honest businessman should join and support this organization which does so much to keep business competition fair and above board.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Your paper recently quoted Judge Harris as saying, "San Mateo County has not lived up to its obligation to share the burden of the public subscription" for Mary's Help hospital. Your paper said he charged Daly City with "failure to share a public burden." I resent the implication.

Another newspaper said recently that this hospital "has been planned as a community hospital—not a Catholic hospital." Much of the news in your paper has said the same thing or almost the same thing, by implication.

I believe the public would respond better if the appeal were made for an out and out Catholic hospital, which is what this proposed to be. Much emphasis has been laid on the fact that persons of all faith will be welcome, that everyone will be served by this hospital, but make no mistake about it, the administration and control, the medical code and practice, this will be Catholic completely, and those who solicit funds should say so. Any inference to the contrary is fraud, commercial and journalistic.

No one denies that Roman Catholic hospitals render a real service to humanity. No one denies that the Sisters who serve the sick are often paragons of virtue. No one questions their right to serve humanity through their private institutions when they wish, but there should be no deceit in their presentations or solicitations. This is a Catholic hospital. The atmosphere and paraphernalia will be indisputably Roman Catholic.

The medical code governing Roman Catholic hospitals differs in many respects from that ordinarily followed by non-Catholic physicians and hospitals. The Catholic code is, furthermore, strictly enforced on all patients, regardless of their faith, and on all physicians using the hospital's facilities.

The Roman Catholic medical code formerly forbade a Catholic nurse to call a Protestant clergyman to minister to a patient. This rule has been relaxed because of hostile public reaction. It is now permitted to call a minister or a rabbi if the patient specifically requests it.

I believe their campaign would prosper better if they would forthrightly say, This is going to be a Catholic Hospital.

Trackdown For Facts

By LOUISE BOGGESS

The letter was postmarked "Belgium." The writer, a woman, requested information concerning her grandfather's brother who settled in San Mateo around 1850, and was never heard from again.

Tracking down elusive answers to pertinent facts is one of the challenging facets of running a Museum, according to Dr. Frank M. Stanger, director of the San Mateo County Historical Museum.

"Fortunately," Dr. Stanger chuckled, "the name was not Jones or Smith, but Starcken." He checked the oldest of a set of city directories donated to the Museum and found a listing "Mrs. Gesche Starcken." The name did not appear in the next year's history.

"I reasoned that she must have died, so I called the vital statistics," Dr. Stanger continued. "The death certificate listed the funeral home but no relative. From the funeral home, I secured the name of the person who paid the bill. The brother of the grandfather was the payer's father," and thus the families across the Atlantic were united again.

From the payer, Dr. Stanger learned that San Mateo's Hobart Ave. used to be called Second Ave., which reminded him of another track down.

In old county histories, it is recorded that in 1861 the State Legislature, to almost everybody's surprise, passed a bill ordering an election in San Mateo County on the question of removing the courthouse from Redwood City — to where? To an unheard of place called San Mateo Villa. A title company man thought he knew where this ambitious piece of real estate was, but he would like to be sure. His hunch was wrong.

This problem was turned over to a pre-law student in Dr. Stanger's course in local history. Property deeds revealed no clue, this student found, but legislative records did: the surprising bill was the work of Assemblyman James Denniston, a large land owner on our Coastside, who found Redwood City inaccessible—it took a whole day of riding to get there, and another day to return.

From here the trackdown trail led to Denniston's political friends, and to the promoters of the mythical San Mateo Villa—on the land that was later the Homestead Tract with its Second Ave., now named Hobart.

Dr. Stanger has already been approached to shoulder a new track-down assignment when the Museum is settled in the new biulding on the College of San Mateo campus. The San Francisco Junior League is compiling a list of historic houses in fair preservation on the Peninsula.

The View From Behind the Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

The relatives found the bodies in the pre-midnight hours. The woman was dead in her kitchen and the man was dead in his basement. The relatives called the police.

Dispatcher Machinot radioed to his units, telling them of a possible murder-suicide at the address. The units began to respond to the described location.

Patrolman Ingbrigtsen arrived first, it being his beat. He spoke with the two relatives, then viewed the scene. The scene was a blood bath. It appeared that the woman had been stabbed. The man's wrists were cut, and he had obviously bled to death.

The officer commenced to get the story from the relatives. Other officers arrived on the scene. Patrol Sargeant Murray assigned his men. Reserve Patrolman Ricci was posted at the front door to the house, so as to allow only authorized persons to enter.

Patrolmen Steen and Hunter made the neighborhood check, trudging from door to door. Deputy Coroner Jessen arrived to assist with the bodies when that became necessary.

The Duty Detective, Sergeant La Bruzzo, arrived, and took over the questioning. His Lieutenant arrived to take over-all charge of the investigation. Reserve Patrolman Beaumont snapped twenty pictures pertinent to the death scenes.

Ingbrigtsen made his diagrams. He commenced to measure the areas where the bodies were. Sergeant Terry and Detective Stables, who were out on another assignment, heard the radio chatter pertinent to the case. They automatically responded from far away. They aided Ingbrigtsen with his measurements.

Patrolman Crooker, a neighbor and off duty, came over and helped out on some of the peripheral areas of the investigation. The job on the scene was accomplished, and properly, in two hours. The work was done by a practiced team.

At the station later, the work was somewhat more difficult. The inadequate facility does not allow for several and diverse things to occur there at the same time. However, the investigators managed to further interview witnesses, answer the questions of the press representatives, and to arrange notes and evidence.

Chief Criminal Deputy Carey was awakened via telephone, and filled in on the happening. Things legal were discussed and decided upon. Captain Beecher was called and considered the situation, lending a few practical comments. Everything pointed to murder-suicide in the case. The investigators came to the same conclusion.

The next morning, after four hours off, Ingbrigtsen drew the assignment of attending the post mortems at Community Hospital. Doctors Lack and Roseander performed the necessaries. Then Ingbrigtsen returned and completed his paperwork at the station.

Sergeant La Bruzzo worked several days more, running down all the loose ends. He interviewed people who had worked with the suspect and the victim, and others who knew them as man and wife. Sergeant Terry covered other areas to the same end.

Detective Stables and Sergeant La Bruzzo embarked on a 240-mile round trip to speak with one person concerning the background situation. Then the case was closed, in the criminal sense. There was nobody to prosecute.

Charles R. Kelly completes basic

Charles R. Kelly, 17, son of James M. Kelly of Colma, recently completed basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. The graduation ceremonies, involving more than 1,000 men, consisted of a full dress parade.

The intensive nine-week training includes naval orientation, history and organization; basic military law; seamanship and shipboard routine; ordnance and gunnery; damage control; sentry duty and military drill; physical fitness; swimming, first aid and survival.

Naval training produces the manpower in seapower by supplying qualified personnel to man the ships, aircraft and shore stations of today's Navy.

What Every Woman Should Know About Her Automobile

"TRINITY ALP TROUT"

It's not too difficult to get to the Trinity Alps — it's after you get there things get a little rough. My husband had been looking forward to trout fishing in the Trinity Alps for years and now, at last, we were going.

Beyond Trinity Lake we knew we were in for some rough dirt roads and as we were loaded down with camping gear we'd installed shock springs. These shocks springs are "helpers" for the shock absorbers and are used to supplement the action of the shock absorbers so that heavy loads may be carried safely. Station wagon owners find these very helpful as they are prone to overload their cars and should have some auxiliary help for their shock absorbers.

We left paved road at Trinity Lake and bounced along beside Coffee Creek, which sparkled and sang in the bright sun. Happily we pointed out pools to each other and counted our anticipated catch.

As we climbed the summer cabins began to thin out and finally disappeared altogether. Then Coffee Creek and the road began to become a little confused and the creek crossed the road. Undaunted, my pioneer stock husband took the ford at full tilt.

Water swooshed over the wind-shield, mixed with the dust of the road — and we couldn't see a thing. Fortunately I'd recently bought a new window cleaner called "Brite" at the Auto-torium store. It's manufactured on the peninsula and you merely put a drop or two in the path of the windshield wiper and it removes streaks and spots. We tried it and all the dirt and stain disappeared. It took no effort and worked beautifully. It should be convenient to use in our Bay Area fog or for removing salt water film after a day at the beach.

I was very pleased with my foresight as we climbed back into the car to continue our climb toward the huge trout waiting for us high in the Trinity Alps.

Free copies of Wendy Wheeler's informative and entertaining booklet, "What Every Women Should Know . . . About Her Car," may be obtained at any Auto-torium store or by writing her in care of this newspaper.

Something for Everyone

By Samuel Chandler

"The Group," a novel by Mary McCarthy, seems destined for popularity and controversery. It has been called juicy, shocking, witty, a social document, and something pretty good.

It tells the story of eight graduates from BLedaS WG graduates of Vassar from 1933 to 1953. One is Libby MacAusland, a sort of romantic snob who thinks of herself as a gentlewoman yet would allow herself to be seduced if necessary to receive a proposal.

Polly Andrews—after a love affair with man suffering with an emotional problem marries a psychiatrist and brings her divorced father to live with them. Pris Hartshorn who marries a pediatrician and struggles to raise her child according to his theories. Another is Kaya Strong, a sensuous girl who marries a blowhard, pseudosophisticated, self-loving stage manager with whom she has lived before marriage.

There is Elior Eastlake from Chicago who is the organizer of the group and who is a cultivated Lesbian. Another is Dothe, weak but enlighted who submits to a rakish man and and shortly after visits a birth control clinic. The other two are Pokey Prothero, the innocently insensitive rich girl and Helena, the ugliest and most intelligent of the group.

In the story of these women, Miss McCarthy shows us love running the gamut from brutal and bitter to warm and sweet. Within the story are several themes. One of these is that reserve about sex is a fault that may do harm to life itself. Another is the need for good sense and tough-minded people in today's world.

To some readers the novel will seem too grotesque, to others a picture of the decay in the conventional worly of the 20th Century.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

By Mona Baker

Looking for a fun and stimulating day out but feel you can't leave your small youngsters? We have a suggestion!

Have you heard about the Y-Wives of the YWCA?

Designed particularly for the mother with small children, the group meets every Tuesday morning for an interesting program and speaker while the little tikes are in the nursery.

Organized in the local area about three years ago, the Y-Wives have built up a most enthusiastic and energetic membership. They began their fall program last week meeting at Lincoln Park Clubhouse.

They have a most fascinating schedule planned for the coming months. Vivacious Virginia Church (YWCA's new San Mateo County Director) will conduct a charm course, a special Christmas craft workshop is planned for November and other outstanding speakers are scheduled on other Tuesdays.

Y-Wives is a national organization with chapters located in cities throughout the United States. It has been one of the most successful of all the Y programs. Each year an "Area Conference" is held with representatives from Y-Wives groups from cities around the Bay Area meeting in a day-long session to discuss their programs and activities.

For girls who live down the coast there is a Y-Wives located in Pacifica. They also meet on Tuesdays at the Oddstad Clubhouse.

If you are interesting in joining Y-Wives or perhaps learning more about their activities telephone the YWCA (PL 6-7370).

The welcome mate is out!

* * *

When we think of the Daly City Y-Wives group we immediately think of a local volunteer who has contributed so much to making the organization successful.

She has served two terms as president of Y-wives and one year on the area committee. She also modeled in the "Thursday Girl" fashion shows and this year will be fashion show director. She also is hospitality chairman of the Y-Wives.

She has given many hours of volunteer service to other community organizations. She was a Cut Scout den mother and for two years, room mother at Abraham Lincoln PTA. She has participated in all community fund drives.

Cool punch was welcome at PTA tea

By MRS. A. C. LIBERATO

The heat of the day on Sept. 26 made iced punch the popular choice of those who attended the Jefferson High School PTA Tea at the school.

Principal, John Mongan and faculty members crowded around the punchbowl, lamenting the faulty cooling system in classrooms. Mr. Mongan expressed regret that such a breakdown had occured, particularly on the hottest day of the year, and promised the speediest possible remedial action.

Mrs. A. Huelse, president of the PTA, announced enrolment for Medical Self-Help Training on Thursday, Oct. between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. at the High School, and encouraged all parents to avail themselves of the opportunity of this service. The program consists of 8 lessons which will teach methods of family protection in case of earthquake, fire, nuclear attack, and everyday accidents where a doctor is not available.

The next regular meeting of Jefferson High School PTA is scheduled for Oct. 10 at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Vic

Fifty-plus club fund raising set

The Fifty-Plus Club of Pacifica has set next Sunday, October 6, as the date for their second annual fund-raising luncheon and program. The event will take place at the Sharp Park School in Pacifica starting at 12:30 p.m. when a full course luncheon will be served with Braised Beef heading the home cooked meal.

Promptly at 12:30 p.m. Sandra Finley, the current Miss Pacifica, and her court of beautiful young ladies will present a fashion show under the capable direction of Nita Buchannan. Sandra will appear the second time, later in the program, to present her talents as both a nacrobatic and ballet dancer. She will also draw the tickets for the door prizes to be awarded, which will include the "City of Pacifica" Fuschia. At 2 p.m., the program itself will get underway with the presentation of colors by members of the National Guard.

Paul Stuart, popular tenor who made such a hit in last year's show, will sing four new selections. He will be accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Jane McKinney.

As an innovation for this year's production, nine of Pacifica's prominent pastors will join forces as a choral group and present two selections. The clergymen participating in this unusual group are, The Reverends Vernon Alexander, Carl Banning, Joseph Conn, Dan Estes, George Fletcher, Herschel D. Harkins, Edwin O. Grimon and T. W. Polster. The latter will direct the group.

Two original one act sketches written by president Wilma Laurel Calhan will be enacted during the afternoon. The first, "A Good Impression," will feature Mabel Lomeli, Caroline Baillie, Vada Walker and Avis Bailey. The second sketch, laid in the 90's, is "When Ladies Meet," a satire on Club women. The cast is busy learning lines and getting their costumes ready. Club memmbers Molly McGilvy, Rosella Kellam, Frances Lawyer, Thelma Pucci, Elizabeth Fero, Alethea Gile and Mariane Nelsen head the cast. Last year over 200 Coastsiders attended the event and everyone is invited this year. Tickets may be obtained from any Fifty-Plus Club member, the Beach and Recreation Department or at the door of the school on Sunday. Admissions are priced at $1.75 for adults and seventy-five cents for children, and cover both the luncheon and program.

Proceeds from the affair will finance various club projects with a heavy concentration on the Club's Christmas project for the benefit of Disabled Veterans of World War I who are at the VA hospital in Menlo Park. These men were known as the "forgotten ones" until the Fifty Plus Club took a hand last Christmas providing a sparkling Christmas party and presents for the more than eighty men. Plans are already underway for the second such party this year.

Rotary district governor to visit today

Harold E. Tucker of Garberville, governor of district 513 of Rotary International, worldwide service organization, arrived here today to visit the local Rotary club, one of the 53 clubs in his district. In addition to addressing Daly City Rotarians at their meeting, he will confer with Paul Hupf, president of the Rotary Club of Daly City and the other club officers on Rotary administrative matters and service activities.

Tucker is a realtor in Garberville and is a member and past president of the Rotary Club of Garberville. He was elected a district governor for 1963-64 at Rotary's 54th annual convention in St. Louis, Missouri, last June. He is one of 272 district governors responsible for supervising the activities of more than 11,500 Rotary clubs with a total membership 535,500 Rotarians in 129 countries around the globe.

"The visit of the governor," the president of the local club said, "is a time for examining the effectiveness of what we are doing to achieve Rotary goals in community improvement, in youth work, in raising the standards of our businesses and professions, and in doing what we can as a Rotary club and as individual Rotarians to help further international understanding."

As the governor of this Rotary district, Mr. Tucker supervises the organization of new clubs in his area. Last year, more than 300 new Rotary clubs were organized in 46 countries, with clubs being formed for the first time in the West African country of Sierra Leone.

Before assuming his duties as district governor, Mr. Tucker attended an eight-day meeting at Lake Placid, N.Y., held to assist Rotary Governors to meet the duties of their office.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

It is "back-to-TV school" time this week for students in the Jefferson Elementary School District of Daly City as KQED begins its sixth year of instructional TV courses. They will be joining over 200,000 students around the Bay Area who will be watching Channel Nine's ITV service which is the most extensive ever offered.

So far eight schools in the local school district will be viewing the classes at various grade levels with more schools joining during the week.

Schools which will participate in the instructional service include Westlake, Christopher Columbus, Olympia, Crocker, Colma K-6, Fernando Rivera, Colma Intermediate and Vista Mar.

A new course on this year's schedule has aroused considerable interest among local teachers. Titled "Bay Area Adventure" the program is directed toward third grade students and will feature "field trips" to various Bay Area locations. Teaching the class is Les Landin (on leave from Saratoga School District) who sketches as he talks. A talented cartoonist he was one of the first performers on KQED. His "Buckskin Bob" series was Channel Nine's first nationally released program and was a thoroughly delightful and entertaining, as well as informative, show for the younger set.

Other programs that will be viewed locally include "Let's Figure," "Science in Our World," "Let's Solve It" and "Take a Number."

(By the way, for parents who find the new mathematics rather baffling, KQED has a new daytime course "Modern Math for Parents" which will start October 8).

The Jefferson Elementary School District participated in KQED's instructional program for the first time last year. At the end of the school year, principals of participating schools (in consultation with their teachers) turned in evaluation reports on value of the television courses. Generally the response was most enthusiastic.

According to Dr. V. S. Stratton "having experienced beneficial results from the viewing of selected television program this last year, we feel that the opportunities to view these worthwhile programs should be extended to more students."

By the way, if you are interested in seeing some of the programs that youngsters are viewing just tune in on KQED. The classes are seen daily from nine until four. Consult your TV logs for specific times and programs. We're sure you'll be impressed.

Folk dancing Fridays at War Memorial bldg.

It's folk dancing on Fridays in Daly City at the War Memorial Community Center on Mission Street, corner of Alp, near the top of the hill.

The El Camino Reelers have been dancing all summer as part of the Daly City Recreation Department program and have added a few dances to their repertoire that can be done in the ballroom, such as a tango or two, a samba, a cha-cha and a few combination steps adaptable to various rhythms.

October 4th will open the fall session and a return to authentic folk dances — some new, most old favorites. The class is especially planned for beginners and starts promptly at 8 o'clock with a coffee break, home made cookies and time for friendly chatter at 9 o'clock, and dancing for fun until 10 o'clock.

The dues are $1.00 each per month. Bring your partner, and let's dance!

Refreshments will be served in the multi-use room following the class meetings.

As a reminder to parents, the later part of October is the P.T.A. membership campaign. Be sure to join.
